FHC has served Louisville, KY since 1976 with a mission to provide access to quality primary and preventive health care services without regard to the ability to pay. Currently, FHC has seven locations, serving over 44,000 patients. Our Phoenix health center offers primary care for the homeless while another site, Americana, provides refugee screening examinations and primary care our refugees. The other five locations function as basic primary care offices with several offering Women's Health Care and Pediatrics. Pre-natal care is provided in partnership with the University of Louisville OB/GYN staff performing the deliveries. Dental services are offered at two locations. Behavioral Health is either on-site or readily available at all sites. Louisville is a lovely city with a modest cost-of-living index, a temperate climate, many interesting neighborhoods, and friendly people. It is home to the University of Louisville Medical School and its teaching facilities with access to its faculty.
